

500 YEARS OF REFORMATION IN A LATIN AMERICAN CONTEXT

SUMMARY:

Join this year's celebrations in a different manner. Experience the spirituality, ecumenism and social justice movements that have stemmed from the Reformation and found root in Mexico and Central America.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- Worship with a local Lutheran Church on Reformation Sunday.
- Converse with leaders of ecumenical movements and the Mexican Theological Community that are responding to social inequities outside church walls.
- Participate in discussions with Augsburg Lutheran Seminary leaders and students on topics such as “Catholicism and gender equality in Mexico”, “Lutheran Liturgy in a Latino Context” and “The violence of Globalization in Latin America.”
- Visit sites of past and ongoing importance in Mexican culture: the National Palace and Diego Rivera's murals, the National Cathedral, the Templo Mayor (remains of Aztec pyramids) and the Basilica of Guadalupe (one of Latin America's most important religious sites).
- Visits to marginalized communities where the Christ-centered nonprofit AMEXTRA is promoting community transformation
